Restoring Your Item Back to Square One

Stripped of grime without stripping its value. That's the difference a proper hydroblast makes. At Square One Factory, we take your tired, worn components and bring them back with a clean, consistent finish that keeps their integrity intact. The method is simple but the result speaks for itself, clean, smooth, accurate surfaces ready to be rebuilt or reused.

Bring Back Function with a Professional Hydroblast Finish

Hydroblasting, also referred to as aqua blasting or water blasting, is ideal for cleaning delicate metals. By mixing water with a mild abrasive under pressure, the process gently removes dirt, oil, rust and old coatings. This technique leaves no surface distortion, making it perfect for parts where precision still matters.

From automotive restorers to mechanical engineers and engine rebuilders, professionals trust this process to clean without compromising structure. Whether it's engine parts, aluminium wheels, fork legs or small household fittings, a hydroblast gives everything a clean slate.
