

Discover Freedom on Two Wheels with Kona Gravel Bikes Across Australia

So, you've heard the stories. A bunch of riders, engineers, and genuine risk-takers in Utah got together with one goal. They wanted to build the world's finest carbon fibre bike parts. That's ENVE. The range of ENVE Melee available in Australia is all built in-house, by hand, with no shortcuts. What you get is something strong, light, stiff, and aero. Every single time.

The ENVE Melee Australia Deserves

Look, ENVE doesn't do second-best. There's no watered-down version of their gear. If it's got the ENVE name on it, it's the absolute top of the line. They use special tech like moulded spoke holes and textured brake tracks, setting the standard for others to follow. From world races to rugged mountain trails, this gear is made to perform. We're stoked to bring the raw speed of ENVE Melee to Australia's toughest riders.

ENVE Road & Gravel Bikes

ENVE Melee road bikes in Australia are built for pure speed. They feel like part of you, turning every bit of your power into forward motion. On the other hand, their gravel bikes are for when the tarmac ends. They're tough and fast, made to handle rough Aussie terrain without slowing you down. An ENVE Melee available in Australia setup is perfect for this.
