Schools, workplaces, healthcare facilities, gyms and other organisations need storage that can handle regular use while fitting different spaces and user requirements. OzLoka® New Zealand's heavy duty polyethylene locker cabinets provide a practical storage option for facilities that need durable personal storage without complicated installation or assembly.

Locker Cabinets Built for Different Storage Requirements

OzLoka® New Zealand offers several locker series to accommodate different storage needs. The A, B, C, D, E and H series provide different configurations, making it possible to select a locker arrangement based on the available space and the type of items users need to store.

The range also includes accessories such as shelves, clothes hooks, rail hooks, sloping tops, kicker bases and Number Plaques. These options allow organisations to tailor their locker installation around the needs of their facility rather than relying on a single standard arrangement.

- Heavy duty polyethylene construction
- Single-piece bodies without welds or seams
- Multiple locker series and configurations
- Padlock, key, combination and digital combination lock options
- Available accessories including shelves, hooks, sloping tops and kicker bases
- Fully assembled for straightforward installation

Locker Cabinets for Schools, Workplaces and More

Different environments call for different forms of storage. Schools can use lockers for student belongings, while workplaces can provide employees with dedicated personal storage. Healthcare, sport and recreation, retail and hospitality facilities can also use locker systems to keep personal items organised within shared spaces.

For facilities that need dedicated mobile device storage, the F Series Phone Locker provides individual compartments for phones. The wider range also includes Tool Lockers, Pigeon Hole Lockers and Vented Wardrobe Lockers for specific storage applications.

Configure Your Locker Cabinets with Us

OzLoka® New Zealand provides a range of heavy duty polyethylene storage solutions for organisations across education, healthcare, workplaces, sport and recreation, retail and hospitality.
