What Should Players Know?

The L168 combines components from established European manufacturers with Estonia's piano-making approach. Lyra Pianos highlights the solid European spruce soundboard, Renner action and Renner Blue hammers. The compact 168 cm body also gives this grand piano a smaller footprint than larger concert instruments.

The 168 cm body also gives this grand piano a smaller footprint than larger concert instruments. That size can matter when the available room has limits, while the player still wants a full grand piano.
